Benefits of Sports

- Recent educational trends show the teaching of social and emotional learning in schools.
- Schools have made a push to design clever ways to teach character traits.
- Athletics has been teaching children this for years.
- Again, athletics has been teaching character to student athletes for years.
Athletics, like other extra-curricular and co-curricular activities, on a few occasions has gotten our children into college, but in many cases it has been a component of their transcript that rounds them out as a person.

Try and recall your JHS and HS memories, For most it isn’t that amazing lesson on any particular subject, but rather the life lessons learned while participating in some extra-curricular or co-curricular activity.
